We invite you to examine our premium 2012, cost-cutting training offering.

Join today's eager, motivated teams in embracing a fresh, "energy & morale boosting" training approach. Learn proven tools to create a healthy, energized and more efficient workplace. This is a power-packed, fun training. Attendees will leave more focused, motivated & equipped to tackle the challenges of today's global marketplace.

- 5&5 SELECT is a premier, multi-agency partnered training product. This offering incorporates your collective, ongoing, and specific requests. We are excited to bring you this comprehensive, state-of-the-art, interactive training opportunity.
- The STRESSERCISE™ for Life Training Package is specially priced and offers the key benefit of measurable, demonstrated results - both immediate and long-term.
- It was developed from over twenty-five years of workshop presentation, ongoing research, extensive follow-up, and a special format designed from your many helpful insights.

Watching over those years a consistent, steady climb and recent rise in workplace demands, along side the significant "unanswered" morale decline; we felt this offering a timely and necessary response.

After almost a year of discussion with our clients across the country, we came to five clear conclusions:

- Creating adequate time for proper training and having multiple employees off task remains an ongoing challenge.
- Training budgets, especially for Soft Skill Training, are generally low and/or non-existent
- Alternative on-line training offerings aren't proving effective or reflecting needed gains.
- As a result productivity, teamwork, energy levels and morale are often diminished.
- Left unaddressed, this situation negatively impacts allocated budgets and the bottom-line. Therefore, making achieving desired results more difficult.

The Approach:

- The first goal is to systematically educate and ignite individuals to achieve their highest level of performance. This challenge is accomplished through our interactive and comprehensive workshop presentation and state-of-the-art training tool.
- This unique, custom-designed product organizes training material into easy-to-follow step-by-step concepts.
- The second goal is to challenge the workshop attendees "to challenge each other" to put the learned techniques into immediate action, to be and remain accountable to other team members and most important model and retain positive results long-term.

Research substantiates healthier employees are more alert, have less sick days and maintain high levels of productivity longer-term.
